

CHAPTER 1

Billy is at the river. He is trying to catch a fish.

He hears a strange noise. He looks up and sees a crow.

“Hello, crow. Will you be my friend?” Billy says. “A crow cannot talk so it won’t talk back,” he thinks.

“Hello, Billy. Yes, I want to be your friend,” says the crow. Billy is surprised.

crow (n) a large black bird strange (adj) not normal; unusual

Billy is at the river. He is trying to catch a fish.

“How can you talk?” Billy says. “You are just a crow!”

“I am not just a crow,” he says. “This is a world of magic.”

“Magic is not real,” Billy says. “Everything happens for a reason.”

“Magic is real, Billy. You will see. A bad wizard takes your mum and dad. Only you can save them. But you need to learn magic. Are you ready for this adventure, Billy?” the crow says.

Billy thinks about this.

“I want to believe you, crow. But I don't know you,” Billy says.

“My name is Old John. I am a good wizard. The wizard turns me into a crow because he wants to punish me. I will not do bad things in his name.”

“Silly crow!” Billy says. Billy goes home.

“Mum? Dad?” he says. “I am home.”

“How can you talk?” Billy says. “You are just a crow!”

There is no reply. Billy looks for his mum and dad everywhere in the house. He cannot find them. He starts crying. He waits until night but no one is there. Billy is alone.

Billy hears a noise. He looks out and sees the crow.

“Crow, you are right. The bad wizard has my mum and dad,” he says. “I will go on your adventure. I want to save my mum and dad. Will you teach me magic?”

“No. I am not strong enough,” says the crow. “You must beat the bad wizard, Billy. You must be strong. You must be clever. You must be brave. After this, you will be ready to fight the bad wizard.”

“This sounds like an adventure!” Billy says. “I am ready to learn magic.”
